Problem Statement

Title:
Simplifying Holiday Packing and Luggage Management

Problem Statement

How might we make the holiday packing and luggage-handling process easier and more efficient to reduce stress, improve organization, and enhance travelers' overall holiday experience?

Context:
Our research into travelers' holiday packing experiences highlights several recurring issues:

Packing Stress:

- Overwhelmed by decisions about what to pack.
- Fear of forgetting critical items, leading to anxiety.
- Lack of organization systems to streamline the process.

Luggage Management Challenges:
- Physical strain caused by heavy or multiple bags.
- Difficulty navigating luggage in various terrains and travel environments.
- Travel experience overshadowed by luggage-related hassles.

Ineffective Packing Habits:

- Last-minute packing leads to poor decisions and forgotten items.
- Over-packing limits luggage space and reduces spontaneity.
- Essentials are often inaccessible during travel due to poor organization.

Next Steps:

Using this problem statement, we will ideate on innovative solutions that:

- Simplify the packing process with better tools, resources, or systems.
- Address physical and logistical challenges of luggage management.
- Help travelers focus more on their holiday experiences by removing packing-related stressors.
